

The Glanville Singers are a new vocal consort comprising of Rachel Howe (Soprano), Will Prior (Alto), Seb Hill (Tenor), and Jake Sternberg (Bass). Presently housemates, the group have taken the bold step to materialise the incessant singing that occurs around the house (sorry, neighbours) and form a vocal group. Led by Jake (3rd year, The Queen's College), the group are building towards a recital in the Holywell Music Room as part of Jake's music finals. Rachel, Will and Seb are all recent music graduates of the University of Oxford in 2021, with Rachel having studied and sang at Queen's, and Will and Seb both at Magdalen. We are delighted to be performing our debut recital with the New Chamber Opera.
