

Matt Pope is a singer and composer currently based in Oxford, where he sings as a lay clerk in the Choir of Christ Church Cathedral, and with the jazz vocal ensemble group, The Oxford Gargoyles. He would like to thank his singing teacher, Carys Lane, and would like to extend his thanks to all those who have stepped in to sing and play in this recital, as well as to those who have come to watch.