

Biography

John Johnston is an Irish baritone currently based in Oxford. He recently graduated from the University of Oxford with a first-class degree in Music, where he was an Academical Clerk in the New College Choir, and was taught by Bronwen Mills. During his time at Oxford John has enjoyed working on various vocal projects with New Chamber Opera, Schola Cantorum, and the Oxford Opera Society. Most recently he took the role of Figaro in the Opera Society's production of Le nozze di Figaro at the Sheldonian Theatre. He is looking forward to the coming year as a lay clerk at New College and a graduate scholar with Ex Cathedra.
