

Amy Higgins

Amy is a third year musician studying at New College, Oxford and singing under the instruction of Carys Lane. She currently sings as a Choral Exhibitioner at Merton College, led by Benjamin Nicholas, where she has enjoyed participating in numerous concerts, tours to the USA and Scandinavia, and working on CD recordings, particularly as a soloist on Roxanna Panufnik's 'Sleep Jesus Sleep'. Amy has worked closely with the Royal Scottish National Orchestra, performing as a soloist in events such as 'The Ceremony of Carols' and their 'Danny Elfman Galas', working with the composer on this project. She has also performed with the RSNO chorus in the BBC Proms and the Edinburgh International Festival. Additionally, Amy has enjoyed experiences as a member of the Scottish Opera Youth Company and the National Youth Choir of Scotland.
